Chairman, State Regents

Jeff Hickman was appointed to the State Regents in 2017 and serves as chairman, Hickman is president and CEO of the Oklahoma Grain and Feed Association. He has also been involved with his family's farming operation in Alfalfa and Woods counties since childhood, and is now the fifth generation in his family to own and farm land near Dacoma and Cherokee in northwest Oklahoma.

Hickman was elected to the Oklahoma House of Representatives in 2004 and served as Speaker of the House for three legislative sessions from 2014 to 2016, and as Speaker Pro Tempore for two sessions from 2011 to 2013. Hickman, who holds a bachelor's degree in journalism with distinction, worked as vice president of Omni Media Group in Woodward and in higher education public affairs for seven years.

Hickman is a long time member of the Classic Bowl board of directors, he is chairman of the board of directors of Fairview Savings & Loan and serves on the Oklahoma Children's Hospital Board of Advocates and the United Way of Northwest Oklahoma board. Hickman is an Aspen Institute Rodel Public Leadership Fellow and a National Institute for Civil Discourse Next Generation facilitator.

President, NWOSU

Dr. Janet Cunningham serves as the 19th president of Northwestern Oklahoma State University. She was named the school's chief executive officer on July 1, 2006, following her appointment by the Board of Regents of the Regional University System of Oklahoma.

Cunningham is the second alum and first woman to serve as president of the institution. As president, Cunningham has led many new initiatives such as the development of an enrollment management plan, increasing the number of nationally-accredited academic programs, and leading the effort to join the NCAA. Through her leadership, Northwestern was approved for its first doctoral program.

Cunningham earned a doctorate in education from Oklahoma State University and has both her bachelor's and master's degrees from Northwestern. A certified public accountant, Cunningham also has completed professional education at the Institute for Educational Management at Harvard University and through the College Business Management Institute at the University of Kentucky. In 2001, she became a graduate of Leadership Oklahoma and serves on the board of directors for the Oklahoma Foundation for Excellence and the Women's Foundation of Oklahoma.
